DEDICATION

To the fathers of the students, to show in some measure our sincere appreciation of their lifetime of endeavor spent in our behalf, this book is dedicated.

FOREWORD

This book has been compiled for but one purpose—to help you to relive your days at Notre Dame, during the many years to come when 1937 will be but a hazy memory. Let its success be judged by you who read it then.

CAMPUS

A small log chapel, built one hundred and seven years ago by the Rev. Edward F. Sorin, C.S.C., and his band of missionaries for the benefit of farmers and trappers in Northern Indiana, formed the nucleus of the present University campus—over a thousand acres of land beautified by Nature and the hand of Man, a campus of which we are justly proud.

ADMINISTRATION

The ability of the administrative officers is best described in terms of their achievements. They have worked with the same spirit that characterized the founders of the University; and under their direction Notre Dame has advanced and expanded with the same rapidity that marked its former progress, maintaining its position among the leaders in the field of education.

ELMER F. LAYDEN
Director of Athletics
Head Football Coach

Coach Elmer Layden, in his third year as Head Football Coach at Notre Dame, again produced one of the nation's outstanding elevens. The loss of many of the players of last year seriously handicapped him in his efforts to produce a winning team, but this year's aggregation performed so well that the Irish were rated once again among the football greats of the nation. Recognition must also be given Captain-elect Bill Smith who resigned that position late in September when it was found that he could not play because of injuries. Smith refused to be a figurehead and stepped down in favor of John Lautar. Lautar led his team as Notre Dame teams should be led, and earned for himself All-American mention on many teams.

NOTRE DAME - 21 CARNEGIE TECH - 7

"The huge and baffling 'X' which marked Notre Dame's 1936 football future ere today is no longer an unknown quantity. . . . In today's debut, however, the 1936 Irish proved they are better blockers than their predecessors were at the same time last year."

Charles Bartlett, Chicago Tribune.

Opening the 1936 season against a confident Carnegie Tech team, the Irish gave a surprising early season showing with sure blocking, hard tackling and perfectly functioning plays. Steve Miller scored first for the Irish in the second quarter but the Skibos tied the score before the half ended, on a pass attack that threatened disaster for an impotent Notre Dame team. The second half brought a complete reversal of the game, Notre Dame dominating the entire field. Danbom and Miller scored in that order before the game ended, starting the Irish on what appeared to be an undefeated season. Sidelines: O'Neill's kicking and Wilke's runs.

NOTRE DAME - 14 WASHINGTON - - 6

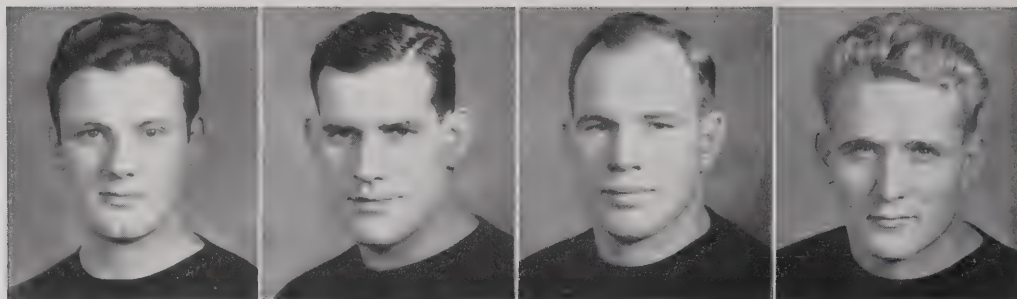

"It took the combined efforts of 52 players of assorted sizes and shapes to keep Notre Dame from being upset by a fighting Washington university eleven . . . in a contest that was labeled a 'breather.'"

Jack Ledden, South Bend Tribune

A Notre Dame squad, confident and expecting an easy game, played a loose and indifferent game while their opponents, led by Bukant's powerful line smashes, capitalized on every opportunity. A sustained drive by the Irish in the second quarter was climaxed when Larry Danbom scored the first six points of the game. Late in the third period, O'Neill took a pass from Wilke and gave Andy Puplis an opportunity to kick his second point after touchdown. Washington accounted for their six points on a break after the referee ruled interference on a pass by Notre Dame on the Irish three yard line. Bukant carried it over on the third attempt. Sidelines: Bukant and Iezzi of Washington and Danbom and McCarty of Notre Dame attempting to outdo each other.

"Notre Dame, with no excessive show of pride or prejudice, today accorded Wisconsin Badgers the same dose of poison administered at Madison last year. The count then and today, was Notre Dame, 27; Wisconsin, 0."

Edward Burns, Chicago Tribune

Fullback and quarterback of the immortal "Four Horsemen" met on the football field once more, this time as coaches, and Elmer Layden sent seventy players into the game against a fighting Wisconsin team that was not as yet accustomed to Harry Stuhldreher's version of the Notre Dame system. It was entirely Notre Dame throughout the afternoon. Munde blocked a punt early in the second half and gave Wojciovski a perfect set-up for the second touchdown of the day. Wilke had contributed the first score at the start of the game on a sixteen yard run. Danbom scored soon afterwards to be followed by Borowski, after Len Skoglund had taken a sixty yard pass from Jake Kovalcik. Bruno converted for the twenty-seventh point. Sidelines: Jensen, Wisconsin tackle, offside five times in first quarter . . . Jankowski pacing the Badgers from his fullback position . . . Elmer's smile.

"Led by Marshall Goldberg, a young Jewish boy who will celebrate his eighteenth birthday on the morrow, the Pittsburgh Panthers marched four times into the promised land back of the Notre Dame goal posts today to defeat the Irish."

Henry M'Lemore, Memphis Commercial Appeal

Before 71,000 spectators, the Fighting Irish of Notre Dame went down to its worst defeat in eleven years before a Pittsburgh team paced by Marshall Goldberg, who displayed most effectively how smashing line-bucks, fast breaking off-tackle slants, and wide end-sweeps should be executed. A sustained drive of seventy five yards netted the first score in the second quarter, and a pass from Goldberg to Hoffman made the score 13-0. Stapulis, LaRue, and Goldberg began running, passing, and kicking in the fourth quarter just long enough to net thirteen more points before the end of the game. Sidelines: Goldberg stopped after gaining only five yards . . . O'Neill kicking out of tight corners . . . that much discussed 25 yard penalty . . . and plenty of bruises.

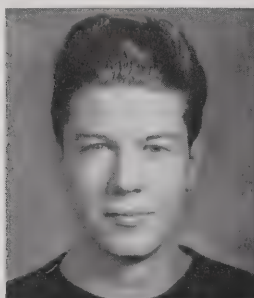

NOTRE DAME-7 • OHIO STATE-2

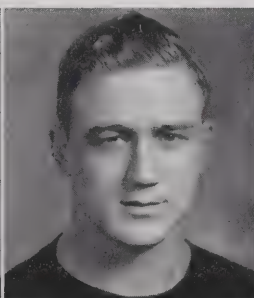

The fighting Irish again are in command at Notre Dame. Paced by Jack McCarthy of Glencoe, Ill., and Nevin McCormick of Livermore, Cal., who were the heroic figures in their team's 76 yard march to a touchdown, Notre Dame today whipped Ohio State, 7 to 2, before a crowd of 56,000, the largest that ever has seen a contest at the new stadium.

A crowd of 56,000 fans filled the stadium to see the Scarlet Scourge scourged. McCarthy's punt from behind his own goal line in the first quarter was blocked to give Ohio State its only score of the game. Following this, McCormick, Danbom, and Simonich took turns in advancing the ball to the Ohio State two yard line from which point McCormick cut through tackle to score. Danbom converted with but one minute left of the first half. A last minute drive by State was stopped on the Irish twelve yard line. Sidelines: Ohio State's "razzle-dazzle" plays . . . McCormick's debut.

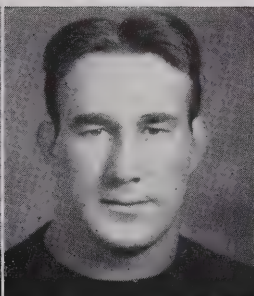

NOTRE DAME-0 • NAVY-3

"Young Bill Ingram, who comes from a Navy family famous in Annapolis football annals, . . . ran and passed, tackled and blocked, proved a demon at intercepting the desperate Notre Dame passes, and polished off his big afternoon's work by kicking the field goal in the third period which sent the Irish tumbling down to defeat."

A capacity crowd at Baltimore saw the Irish bombarded by the thrice defeated Navy. An early drive by Notre Dame was ended by a fumble on the Navy one yard line, and a later drive was foiled on the six yard line when O'Reilly caught a pass behind the end zone. Navy fought a defensive battle almost all afternoon but managed to intercept enough Irish passes to enable Bill Ingram to boot a field goal from the seventeen yard line in the third quarter. Sidelines: Willingness of Ingram and Antrim to catch Wilke's passes.

BEINOR

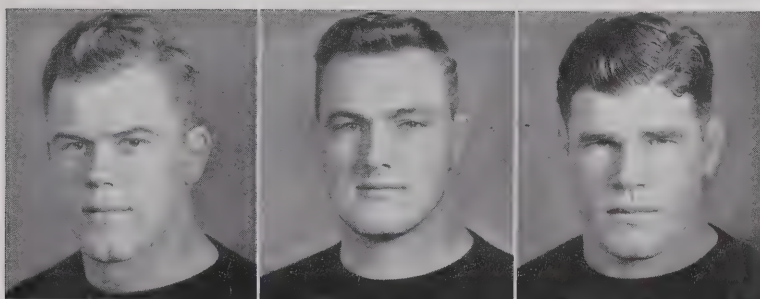

"Notre Dame's consistently inconsistent football team came back with a display of power and speed that routed the Army, 20-6, before a capacity crowd in the Yankee Stadium this afternoon."

Arch Ward, Chicago Tribune

Army marched seventy three yards down the field during the first three minutes of play in the annual New York battle, but was stopped by Andy Puplis' interception of an Army pass behind the Irish goal line. From then on in, it was a great day for the Irish. Wilke scored in the second quarter from the one yard line, from the fifteen yard line in the third quarter, and then collaborated with Danbom to bring the ball to the Army five yard line from which point Puplis took it over. Monk Meyer, Army ace halfback, returned an Irish punt fifty five yards in the fourth quarter for the only Army score. Sidelines: Student trip and all that goes with it . . . 1650 uniformed Cadets on parade . . . the Notre Dame Band with spats and shamrocks . . . the "sleeper play" that fooled the Army.

"Some 55,000 persons, pop-eyed at what they had witnessed for upwards of two hours, left the Notre Dame Stadium this afternoon, wondering, perhaps, which was now the No. 1 football team of the nation."

Warren Brown, Chicago Herald and Examiner

An Irish team that reached its peak extinguished Northwestern's hopes for a National Championship in a game that Notre Dame will never forget. Wilke scored in the first and second quarters on two perfectly executed off-tackle runs. In the third quarter a quick kick was recovered by O'Neill on the Wildcat's three yard line, Danbom crashing through for the third touchdown. Len Skoglund, Irish left end, took a shovel pass from McCarthy in the fourth quarter to score the last touchdown of the day. Northwestern came back with a closing drive that netted seventy-seven yards and a touchdown. Sidelines: Lautar, O'Neill, Steinkemper, Martin, Munde, Cronin, Kopscak, Wilke, Danbom, Wojcihovski, Miller, McMahon, all taking a last bow in the Notre Dame Stadium.

NOTRE DAME-13 • SO. CALIFORNIA-13

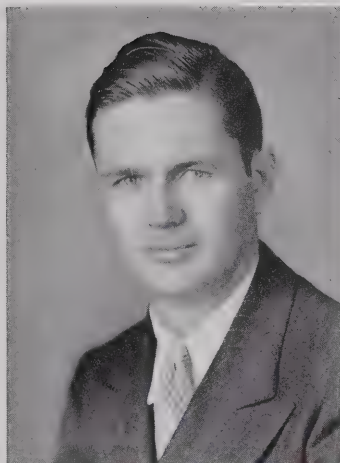

"The scoreboard read simply 13-13 at the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum last Saturday, as the final gun terminated the eleventh meeting of Notre Dame and Southern California on the gridiron, but to the 78,000 frenzied fans who witnessed the game it was a veritable encyclopedia of thrills and excitement that made this year's football season the weirdest in many a decade."

John F. Clifford, The Scholastic

In climaxing an unusual season, the Irish could do no better than tie a supposedly weaker Southern California eleven. Wilke scored in the first ten minutes of play. In the second period, Schindler, Trojan back, cut through center then lateralled to Berryman who ran sixty yards to score. Later in the period, Wilke threw a flat zone pass from the Trojan's nine yard line. Langley intercepted and, aided by beautiful blocking on the part of the referee, ran ninety-nine yards for a touchdown. The Irish tied the score in the last quarter when California's own Bunny McCormick took a pass from Wilke and scored. Sidelines: That disputed touchdown on Beinor's recovery behind the Trojan goal line.

Joe Boland, shock troop tackle with the Four Horsemen, has done an excellent job of line building, handling the centers, guards and tackles. Chet Grant, who returned to Notre Dame as coach after having played before and after the World War, has been invaluable in coaching the backfield. Johnny O'Brien, latest addition to the coaching staff, came to Notre Dame after coaching at St. Edward's University. "The greatest team I ever coached" were the words of Coach George Koegan at the testimonial banquet tendered the members of the 1936-7 basketball squad. Twenty victories in twenty-three starts was the record achieved by the team. Hampered early in the season by injuries, the Koeganmen were forced to wait until the Syracuse contest before really hitting their stride. That game was the first of thirteen straight games won by the squad and which ended with the close of the season. Moir and Nowak were both chosen on various All-American teams. Letters were awarded to Captain Ray Meyer, Paul Nowak, John Moir, Don Allen, John DeMots, Ed Sadowsky, Mike Crowe, Tom Wukovits, Tom Jordan, Earl Brown and Manager Jay Manning. Allen and DeMots are the only members of the squad who will not be returning next year.

NOTRE DAME 41; KALAMAZOO 27

Notre Dame opened its season in early December by trouncing Kalamazoo, 41-27. Supposedly a weak team, Kalamazoo showed a surprisingly strong offense that kept the Irish constantly on the run. The Irish, while shining as individuals, lacked any semblance of good team play.

NOTRE DAME 39; ST. MARY'S 27

Aided by the return of Nowak to the line-up and led by Moir, Notre Dame topped St. Mary's in the second game of the season. It was a costly victory for the Irish, Moir's jaw having been broken. Most of the opponent's points were scored against the Irish reserves.

NOTRE DAME 37; MACOMB TEACHERS 22

Captain Ray Meyer led the Irish to victory over Macomb Teachers, 37-22. Notre Dame had a lead of but four points at the half, but Meyer, Wukovits and Jordan opened up shortly after the second half started to settle the issue.

NOTRE DAME 19; NORTHWESTERN 38

In the first important game of the season, Notre Dame, lacking the services of Meyer, Moir and Nowak, lost decisively to a Northwestern team that was unquestionably superior. McMichael, forward and captain of the Purple, was high scorer of the evening.

NOTRE DAME 29; ILLINOIS 44

For the second time in a row, the Gold and Blue of Notre Dame was dropped in defeat when Illinois was encountered. Nowak showed a flash of his old form in garnering nine points, but the rest of the team was too slow to stop the Illini. Boudreau and Nesbit were high point men for the Illini.

NOTRE DAME 24; NORTHWESTERN 23

The Irish basketball team held on to a one-point lead for four minutes last New Year's Eve to win over the Northwestern Wildcats. Ed Sadowsky and Paul Nowak, with ten and seven points respectively, led the Irish in an uphill fight to take revenge for the defeat suffered earlier in the season.

NOTRE DAME 30; CHICAGO 27

Johnny Moir, Scottish-born sharpshooter, with his thirteen points, and Earl Brown with his nine points, were chiefly responsible for the annexing of Chicago to the list of Irish victims. A ragged Irish offense together with the great defense of the Maroons, almost meant disaster for the Koeganmen.

NOTRE DAME 41; KENTUCKY 28

Clicking consistently against the Colonels, the Irish displayed some of the power that was as yet latent in the squad. Nowak and Moir, with eighteen and ten points respectively, accounted for more than half of the Irish total and equaled Kentucky's total.

NOTRE DAME 25; BUTLER 24

It was a fighting aggregation from Butler that almost upset the Irish on January ninth. A close game throughout, it provided many thrills for the students who had just returned from the Christmas vacation. Moir, discarding the headgear he had been wearing to protect his fractured jaw, scored twelve points to take scoring honors, while Wukovits starred on his defensive work.

NOTRE DAME 31; PITTSBURGH 34

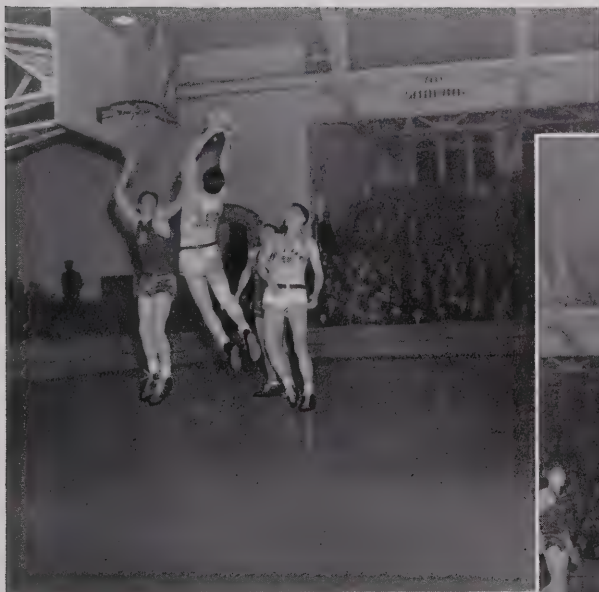

Although holding a nine point lead at one point in the game, the Irish were nosed out by the Pittsburgh Panthers, 34-31. Playing the same inferior brand of ball that had characterized their earlier games, the Irish were unable to start functioning for any great length of time.

NOTRE DAME 52; SYRACUSE 31

The Fighting Irish were really fighting as they overwhelmed a hitherto unbeaten Syracuse five, 52-31. Paul Nowak was on the sick list, but 5,500 fans roared their approval of Moir when he shifted to Nowak's center position and scored ten baskets and four free throws to come within one point of the all-time Notre Dame record. Tom Wukovits did an excellent job of guarding Sonderman, Syracuse ace.

NOTRE DAME 41; PENNSYLVANIA 36

The Irish once more came from behind to show their superiority by defeating the previously undefeated University of Pennsylvania quintet. The score at half time was 19-18 for Pennsylvania, which was increased to 26-19 before the Irish found the hoop. The last ten minutes of the game belonged wholly to the Irish as they overtook the Penn lads with basket after basket.

NOTRE DAME 55; WESTERN RESERVE 20

After garnering a 20-16 lead at the half, the Irish unleashed a second half attack that completely overwhelmed the Western Reserve team. The reserves continued the furious pace set by the regulars in the second period to keep the Cleveland boys on the short end of the scoring.

NOTRE DAME 47; PURDUE 40

Breaking faster than the fastest team in the Mid-West and guarding so closely that their opponents were stopped for the better part of the game, the Fighting Irish defeated the Purdue Boilermakers. Moir, with fifteen points, and Nowak with thirteen points, led the Irish scoring while Earl Brown kept Jewel Young, Purdue's high-scoring forward, closely guarded throughout the evening.

NOTRE DAME 41; ILLINOIS 33

After tumbling Illinois from an early lead, Notre Dame moved smoothly ahead to pile up a safe margin of its own and then successfully, if not skillfully stalled during the closing few minutes to avenge an early season defeat. It was sweet revenge for the Irish.

NOTRE DAME 52; N. Y. U. 26

Doubling their opponent's total, the Fighting Irish continued their winning streak by conquering New York University at Madison Square Garden. Although Notre Dame dominated the play throughout the game, they held only a slim 16-10 advantage at the end of the first half. In the second period they displayed a dazzling passing attack that netted them thirty-six points while the Violets scored but sixteen points.

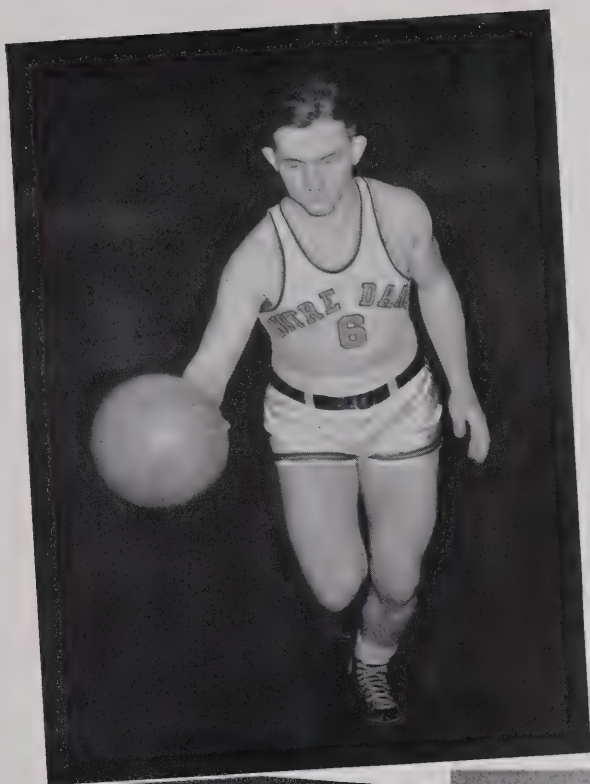

NOTRE DAME 40; CANISIUS 36

Returning from their Violet-picking picnic in New York, the Irish dropped off at Buffalo and squeezed out an unexpectedly tight 40-36 victory over a fighting Canisius club. Moir, inspired by a delegation from his nearby home town of Niagara Falls, tallied twenty one points.

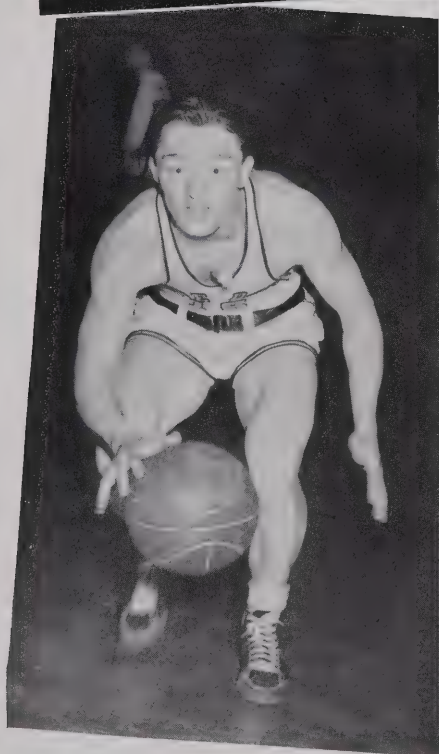

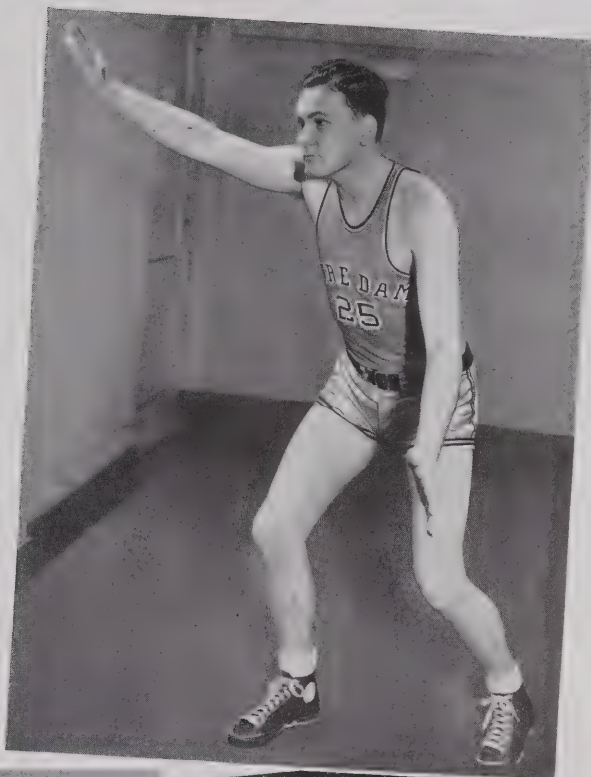

NOTRE DAME 29; PITTSBURGH 18

Finding revenge to be sweet, Notre Dame won its return game with the Panthers of Pittsburgh, thus accounting for the only team that had beaten them and had not been defeated in return. Offensive attempts of both teams were extremely ragged, the victory going to the Irish only because it had the better defense of the two teams. Meyer, with nine points led the scoring.

NOTRE DAME 41; MARQUETTE 24

This newly renovated Irish squad romped over Marquette, 41-24. After about twelve minutes of play, the Hilltoppers led by a 10-3 count. Then the tide of battle changed and the half ended with the Irish on the proper end of a 22-18 score. The second half was a continuance of the first, the Irish finally garnering their forty one points.

NOTRE DAME 42; BUTLER 17

Before a crowd of 8500 Hoosier basketball fans, the Irish conquered the Butler quintet in the same way they had defeated the previous nine opponents. Nowak, Moir, Meyers, Carson, and Wukovits were continually in the heat of the battle and were more than partially responsible for the squad's second win over the Bulldogs.

NOTRE DAME 39; MARQUETTE 35

Last minute baskets by Jordan and Brown were the deciding factors in the return game with Marquette. Playing unexpectedly fine ball, the Hilltoppers almost put the Irish in the defeat column, holding them to a 35-35 tie until the last two minutes of play.

NOTRE DAME 44; MINNESOTA 18

Having previously beaten Illinois, the Notre Dame basketball team more or less set themselves up as unofficial champions of the Mid-West when they overwhelmed Minnesota, co-holder of the Big Ten Championship. The Irish rolled up a score of 20-2 in the first few minutes of play and then coasted for the remainder of the game, never having an uneasy minute about the outcome.

NOTRE DAME 36; DETROIT 18

The final game of the season found the Irish playing and decisively beating the Detroit quintet. The Titans evidently went on a sit-down strike sometime during the course of the evening for when the totals were taken at the end of the game, it was found that the Irish led by eighteen points. Johnny Moir scored seven field goals and three free throws to bring his season's total to 290 points.

CAPTAIN CHARLES JORDAN

Coach Nicholson can look forward to a successful year, if returning varsity material can mean anything. From the pole vaulters, Dan Gibbs, Harold Langton and Bill McCarthy will be returning while Levicki returns for the shot put along with Simonich and Beinor, Sophomore hopes. Captain Jordan and Bill Clifford remain in the dashes, and Bill Mahoney in the hurdles. Ed English, Langton, and Schmitz will represent the Irish in the high jump. The distances are well covered by Arch Gott, Jim Parsons, Pete Sheehan, John Francis, John Cavanaugh, and John Clifford. The Sophomore trackmen are sure to provide some good material, among whom are Greg Rice, who shows great promise in the mile, Beinor and Simonich.

The indoor track season was inaugurated on February 7, 1936 with a victory over the Chicago Maroons at Chicago. Ray Ellinwood, Chicago sophomore, attracted national attention with a new indoor world's record in the quarter mile, while Elser garnered ten points for high scoring honors of the day, beating out Jay Berwanger.

A powerful Marquette team was the second victim, in the first home dual meet of the season. Elser's shot put heave of 48 feet, 8 $\frac{3}{4}$ inches set a new meet and gymnasium record. McGrath beat out Captain Beckett of Marquette in the 880 yard run, with a driving finish, while the Irish relay team turned in a brilliant performance.

Notre Dame defeated Northwestern on February 28, to extend its winning streak to three straight meets. The field was completely dominated by the Irish. Jordan, Bernard, McKenna, Langton, and McCarthy were outstanding performers for the Irish, with Elser again breaking the meet record in the shot put event. Northwestern set new records in the four man relay and the high hurdle events.

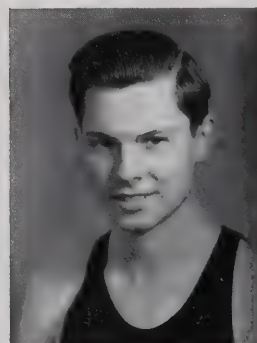

Meeting Illinois on Irish territory, Notre Dame won its fourth straight meet, although the final result hinged upon the ability of the Irish relay team to come through with flying colors. Three meet records, two gymnasium records and one Notre Dame record were broken in one of the closest meets of the year.

ST. LOUIS RELAYS

C. I. C. MEET

As a tribute to Coach Nicholson, the St. Louis Athletic Club invited the Irish coach and some team members to compete in the St. Louis Relays held on February 29. Excellent performances were given by Rubly in the quarter mile, Elser in the shot put, and McFarlane in the two mile run.

By amassing a decisive eleven point lead, the Irish track team regained the Central Intercollegiate Conference title. The meet drew one of the largest entry lists of any C. I. C. contest in the ten years of its existence. Sixteen colleges, representing every part of the Mid West, were entered. Notre Dame placed first only in the shot put, but led the entire field with a well balanced team that scored second and third places consistently.

DRAKE RELAYS

Notre Dame was represented in the Butler Relays by a squad of 14 men, six of whom placed in their respective events to garner a total of eleven points. Notre Dame's track forces made their initial outdoor appearance of the season at the Drake Relays in Des Moines, Iowa. Led by the relay teams, which scored heavily in the 440 and 880 yard relays, Notre Dame took an unofficial first place in number of points. Meagher and Elser took seconds in the broad jump and shot put.

Gibbs tied the meet record in the pole vault, while Frawley garnered high scoring honors of the day by placing first in the 200 yard dash and in the 220 yard low hurdles, and third in the 100 yard dash.

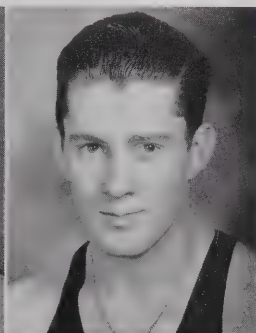

In a triangular meet held in Cartier Field, Notre Dame nosed out Ohio State 71 $\frac{3}{4}$ to 70 $\frac{1}{2}$ and completely outclassed Michigan State by fifty points. Ohio State, led by Jesse Owens, smashed five field marks, while the Irish came through with two new records. In Milwaukee on May 23, the Irish continued their winning stride by defeating Marquette. New records in the 440, in the pole vault, and in the mile relay by Bernard, Gibbs and the relay team, respectively, made the victory look easy. Elser took high scoring honors with a first in the low hurdles, a first in the shot put, and a third in the discus throw.

INDIANA STATE MEET

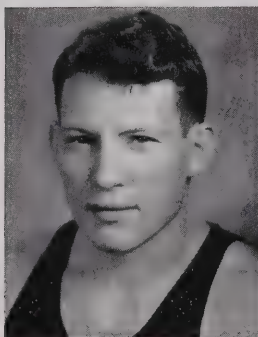

In the state meet, held at Bloomington on May 30, the Irish track squad nosed out the University of Indiana squad by three points. Notre Dame garnered six first places and finished with a total of 67 points, besting Indiana's 64. The Irish made a clean sweep in the shot put with Michuta, Levicki, Elser, and Lill finishing in that order. Captain Ennio Arboit

The loss of twelve of the fifteen lettermen who produced sixteen victories against three losses for the greatest Notre Dame baseball team since 1910, will be keenly felt by Coach Kline. Captain-elect Ennio Arboit and Johnny Goncher, pitchers, and Chuck Borowski, outfielder, alone remain to form the nucleus of the 1937 team. Coach Kline can expect considerable trouble in finding men to fill the shoes of such diamond stars as Pilney, Gaul, Fromhart, Wentworth, Velcheck and Reagan. The Irish nine will face a hard twenty-one game schedule, including fifteen contests against strong Big Ten teams, and tilts with Louisiana Tech and Michigan State, but Coach Kline's ability to produce a winning aggregation may yet overcome such odds.

BOXING

The Bengal Boxing show sponsored by The Scholastic, again provided one of the highlights of the winter sports season when the finals of the boxing tournament were presented on March 19. The bouts were the most sensational ever seen at Notre Dame and were climaxed by the third round knockout of the defending heavyweight champion, Phil Dahar, by Walt Runte, 212 pound freshman. The 1937 Bengal Champions were: Jack McGurl in the bantamweight, Russell Dolc in the featherweight, Gabriel Velez in the lightweight, Jim Brown in the Junior welterweight, Oliver Helland in the welterweight, Jim McGuire in the middleweight, Tom Leahy in the light heavyweight, and Walt Runte in the heavyweight divisions. Barney Ross, holder of the welterweight crown, appeared as honorary referee and donated a trophy to Oliver Helland as winner of the welterweight division.

First row: Walker, Moore, Capt. Hennessy, Danbom, Gallagher, Puplis
 Second row: Butler (accompanist), Broscoe, Ely, McCarty, Kuharich, Scannell (director)
 Third row: Galletta, Strnad, Collins, Maxwell, Sullivan

GYM TEAM

Under the direct supervision of the Head of the Department of Physical Education, Mr. John Scannell, a gymnastic team on a par with other Notre Dame teams has been developed. Excellent material is not lacking, with such men as Joe Kuharich, Pat McCarty, Larry Danbom, Andy Puplis, Gene Ely and Ed Broscoe available. Captained by Don Hennessy, the team has given many acrobatic performances throughout the Middle West.

These exhibitions, always favorably received, are a typical example of the work carried on in the regular curriculum of the Department of Physical Education.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

One hundred and twenty Freshmen, clad in brilliant green jerseys, answered Coach Clarence "Jake" Kline's call for football candidates last September. These yearlings who are drilled in the fundamentals of football by Coaches Kline, Bill Shakespeare, Hank Pojman, Wally Fromhart and Bill Smith, have no seasonal record to testify to their ability and prowess. Their efforts are directed mainly against the varsity squad each week. The Freshmen assume the roles of the varsity's opponents of the following Saturday and scrimmage in their respective formations. That their efforts have been successful is shown in the excellent defensive work of the varsity during the past season.

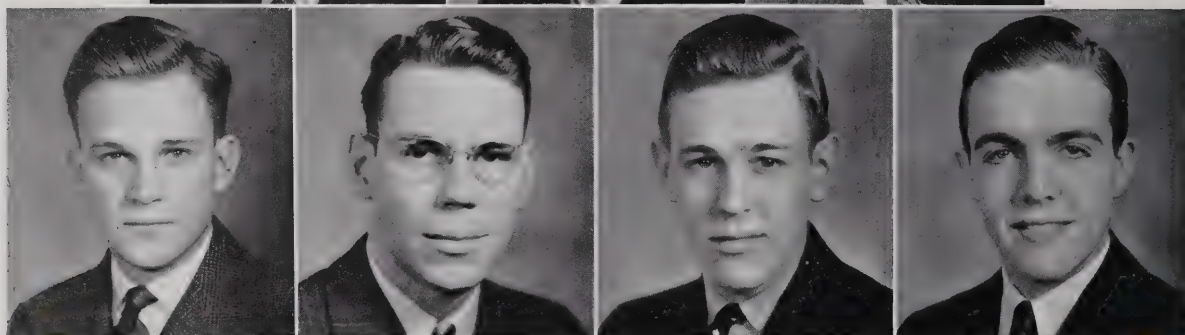

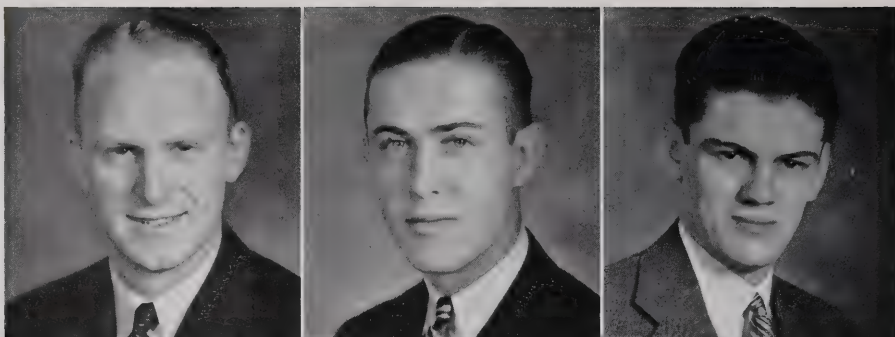

First row: G. Olson, H. Crane, G. Sexton, R. Schnorr, A. Smith, J. Donohue, R. Estepp, E. Micklich, C. Sullivan, F. Sitko, J. Oberbrennan

Second row: P. Sheridan, J. Wagner, J. Litsinger, R. Ellis, M. Ertel, P. Glass, R. Stillwagon, R. Dolling, R. Kelly, P. Arboit, D. Reidy, Coach J. Ford

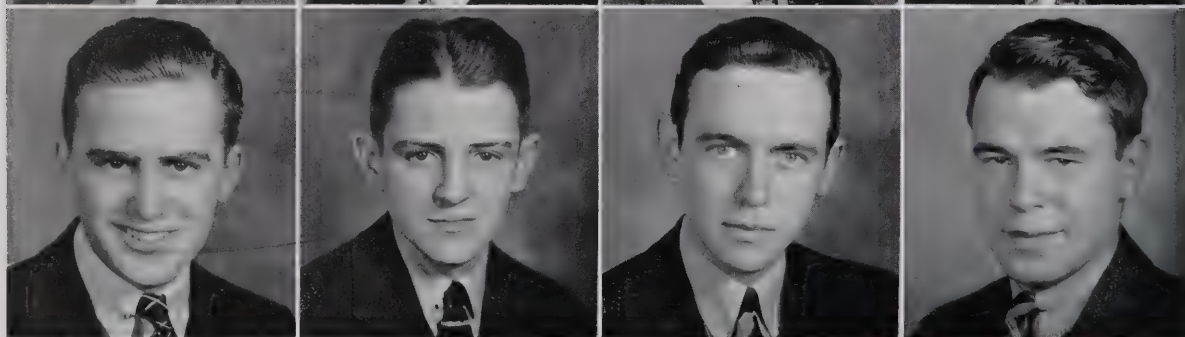

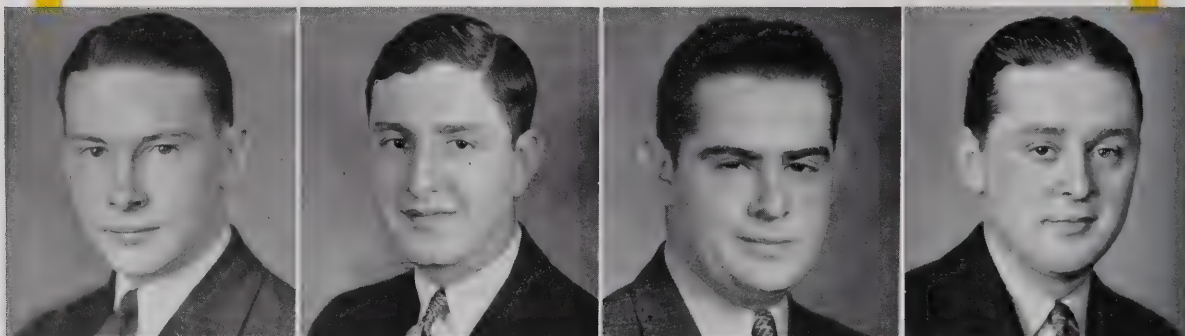

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL

The thirty two freshmen who made up the freshman basketball squad were drilled in the intricacies of the Notre Dame system by Johnny Ford, throughout the past basketball season. On this squad are the men who will replace Moir, Nowak, Meyer, Wukovits, Jordan, Crowe, Carson and O'Connor, the varsity of today. Next year, few freshmen will see much action, due to the great amount of varsity material, but they should bloom in full glory in 1938. Deceptive dribblers, defensive threats, crafty ball handlers and high scorers can all be found on this squad.

THE SCHOLASTIC

Under Editor Paul Foley and Managing Editor Cy Stroker, The Scholastic, campus news-weekly, has maintained the high standards set by former editors in compiling and presenting the news of the campus. "The Week" by John Gillespie, "College Parade" by Anthony O'Boyle, and "In The Juggler Vein" by Joseph Rotundo were special features of interest. Introduced this year by The Scholastic were the short stories, the reviews of the latest records, and the front page "picture of the week." The staff is to be complimented upon a difficult task that was well done.

JAMES E. ARMSTRONG
Editor-in-Chief

Editor James E. Armstrong, '25, and Managing Editor William R. Dooley, '26, have made this monthly publication a veritable news bureau for the Notre Dame alumni. News of the campus and of the activities of the various alumni clubs, is supplemented by notes on all of the classes. The publication is the strongest link between the University and the alumni, and to the editors goes the credit for its success.

DANCES

The dances held by the various classes and clubs of the University form the greatest part of the social life of the students. Besides the formal dances sponsored by the three upper classes, the Law Club, the Knights of Columbus, the Monogram Club, and the Engineers Club, many informal dances are sponsored by the other clubs, and by the classes.

FEATURES

The winners of the Dome Award of Recognition for excellence in extra-curricular activities are presented in this section. Snapshots of campus life form the remainder of the section and are, as always, the most interesting part of a record of college life.

FEATURES

DOME AWARD OF RECOGNITION

In these pages are presented the four Seniors who are recognized this year by the Dome as being the most outstanding in the field of extra-curricular activities. This award is sponsored by the Dome to provide an added incentive for student participation in extra-curricular activities. Only those Seniors who have maintained the scholastic rating of honor students were eligible for the award. This standard was established because we believe that excellence in any extra-curricular field is worthless, unless the primary objective of the student in attending the University has been attained. The selection of Seniors this year was made by a committee of sixteen Juniors, representing the Dome, the Scholastic, the S. A. C., the student managers organization, and each of the five colleges.

ACTIVITIES

It would be an impossibility to record all of the extra-curricular activities which form an integral part of student life at Notre Dame. In the following pages, only a few of the major campus activities in which students have distinguished themselves, are portrayed.

DEBATE

The varsity debating team enjoyed another successful season during 1936-37. Although the schedule began later than usual, about the same number of debates were held as in previous years. Notre Dame won twenty out of its twenty-nine decision debates, and in addition, participated in five non-decision debates. John Marbach, Frank Fitch and Frank Brame participated in the non-decision debates. The "A" squad, consisting of Robert Schmelzle and Richard Meier, affirmative, and Charles Osborne and Thomas Mulligan, negative, journeyed to tournaments at the Universities of Iowa and Wisconsin.

DEBATE

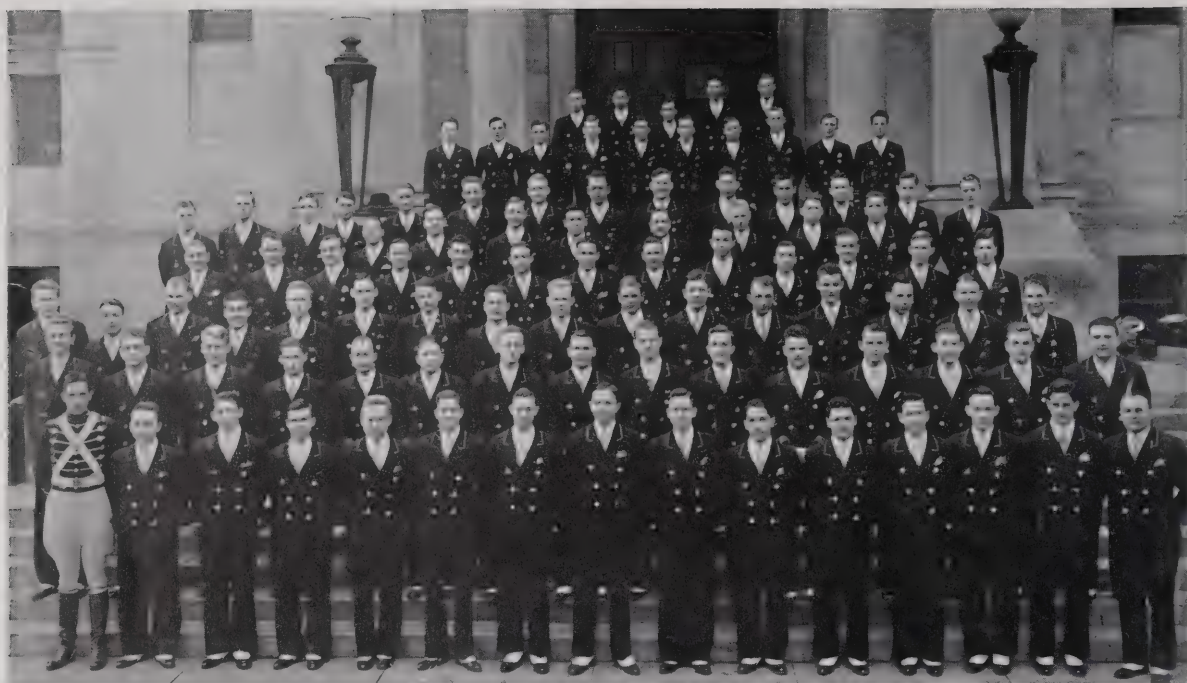

The affirmative team tied for first place in its group at the University of Iowa. The negative won a decision over Michigan State, while the affirmative team lost a decision to the same school. A debate with Alabama held at St. Mary's College was won by the affirmative team. The "B" team, with Frank Brame and Redman Duggan, affirmative, and Frank Fitch and John Marbach, negative, won nine out of ten debates on the question of consumer's cooperatives, at a tournament held at Manchester. The question debated by the varsity was on national legislation for minimum wages and maximum hours in industry. The team was coached by Professor William J. Coyne.

RADIO

The Radio staff is comprised of undergraduate students who take active parts in announcing, continuity writing, production and technical work. Reverend Eugene P. Burke, C.S.C., is the faculty advisor for radio. Weekly meetings are held during which some production or technical phase of broadcasting is discussed. For the past year the student director was Norbert Aleksis. The last year has seen a greater variety of programs successfully produced. The weekly schedules were built of educational, musical and dramatic programs. Included on the schedule were economic round table conferences, faculty talks, Notre Dame Varieties and the Playhouse of the Air. Members of the staff have been actively engaged in experimental radio drama. Among the highlights of the year was the Pontiac "Varsity Show" broadcasting over a national hook-up. Plans for the future call for a complete renovation of acoustical material in the Campus Studio and a still larger weekly schedule of broadcasting to accommodate the growing interest in this extra-curricular activity.

GREATEST SHOW OF THE YEAR

EVENTS

Limited space prevents the recording of all of the important events which have occurred at Notre Dame during the past year. Persons of prominence in every field have graced the Notre Dame campus, and it is with regret that we can present but a few of the occasions of their presence.

EVENTS

EUGENIO CARDINAL PACELLI

Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli, papal secretary of state, was awarded the honorary degree of Doctor of Letters by the University of Notre Dame on October 25, 1936 at a special convocation in Washington Hall. The citation was read by the Rev. J. Leonard Carrico, C.S.C., director of studies, who said in part: "The University of Notre Dame at this special convocation of the faculty on the great feast of Christ the King, is most happily privileged in announcing the conferring of the degree of Doctor of Letters, honoris causa, on: A prince of the Church, eminent by position and by achievement, an ecclesiastical statesman and diplomat who, in an era of world conflict, has done much toward the conciliation of warring peoples and good understanding between governments and the universal church—His Eminence, Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli, Secretary of State to His Holiness, Pope Pius XI." Immediately after the citation was read, Cardinal Pacelli thanked the University for its warm welcome and then gave the benediction of the Holy Father. Cardinal Pacelli is the first papal secretary of state ever to visit the United States.

REV. JULIUS A. NIEUWLAND, C.S.C. MEMORIAL EXERCISES

An assemblage of brilliant scientists, educators, and churchmen gathered at Notre Dame on January 10, 1937 to pay tribute to one of Notre Dame's most famous priests, the Rev. Julius Arthur Nieuwland, C.S.C. From every walk of life, men came to pay their respects to a man who, as a scientist, had gained world-wide recognition, and as a priest, was loved by all who knew him. The memorial services opened with a solemn high mass which was followed by oral tributes to "Father Nieuwland, the Botanist" and to "Father Nieuwland, the Chemist". Scientific discussion, covering the fields of physics, botany, mathematics, and chemistry, occupied the latter part of the program.

ALUMNI ANTI-COMMUNISTIC MEETING

On January 25, 1937 the key meeting of the nationwide alumni anti-Communism drive was held in the Notre Dame gymnasium. This was the opening of the concerted drive against the subversive forces which are undermining both Christianity and American government. Keynote speaker of the program was Arthur J. Hughes, of the Class of 1911, national president of the Notre Dame Alumni Association, who outlined the major part of the program to be followed. The Rev. John F. O'Hara, president of the University, stressed the union of Christian and American ideals and urged a combined front against attack. Professor Daniel O'Grady, of the Philosophy department of the University defined the distinctions between the various doctrines and their related movements. Two student speakers, Sebastian Bonet and James Nerney, discussed the student's approach to the problem of subversive doctrines. This meeting was the first of a series initiated by the Notre Dame Alumni Association to stamp out the doctrines of Communism in America.

MONSIGNOR SHEEN

One of the most popular speakers to appear in Washington Hall this year was the Rev. Monsignor Fulton J. Sheen of the Catholic University, Washington D. C. The largest crowds of the year gathered to hear the lectures, which dealt with the doctrines of Communism. These issues he defined and criticized with undisputable and logical arguments. Monsignor Sheen has become one of the best known orators of our day through his many radio lectures and his many widely read books. He is recognized as Catholicism's most eloquent apostle in its drive against Communism.

REV. JAMES M. GILLIS, C. S. P.

The Rev. James Martin Gillis, C.S.P., editor of the Catholic World, delivered a series of lectures on "Faith and the Modern Mind." Encompassing all aspects of religion in connection with modern civilization, Father Gillis began his series with a lecture on "A New Approach to Apologetics." Father Gillis declared that Christian Apologetics is not a science of systematic defense but one of militant offense, condemning the refrain from controversy as a result of lazy minds and self-satisfied inertia. In the second lecture the Paulist editor spoke on the topic, "God: the Modern Meaning of the Word." Dismissing the idea of atheism by stating that it is a misinterpretation of the word and often a silly boast, the Paulist lecturer declared that the knowledge of the non-existence of God would be a far more devastating blow to the human race than the deadliest death ray.

ARNOLD LUNN

Arnold Lunn, English Catholic apologist and author, headed the list of speakers who appeared in the Fall lecture series at Washington hall. Professor Lunn, a member of the faculty of the new Apologetics course here at Notre Dame, opened his series with a lecture on "Psychic Research," a detailed explanation of spiritualism. In the second lecture he attacked Communism, calling upon the members of the Church to become more militant against the forces of Communism which are sweeping our country. After thoroughly explaining the basic principles of Communism and their fundamental weaknesses, Professor Lunn warned against the disguised front which present-day Communism is using to gain its ends. Before leaving for Europe, Professor Lunn concluded his series with a lecture on "The Catholic in the Modern World."

J. EDGAR HOOVER

John Edgar Hoover, director and leader of one of the most publicized of our federal bureaucracies, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, called upon the youth of the nation to uncover the solution of the crime-ridden municipalities in an address to the students here at Notre Dame. Perhaps no man has ever received such recognition as this stocky Government man. His task was to change an almost unknown and powerless investigation department into the most feared and respected crime-fighting machine in the history of our country. The feats of this body have become legends and the man behind it, a mythical character capable of the impossible.

WASHINGTON DAY EXERCISES

Faculty members and Seniors, wearing caps and gowns, marched into Washington Hall on February 22, 1937 for the fortieth annual Flag Presentation by the members of the Senior Class in commemoration of Washington's birthday. The singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" by the audience opened the program. It was followed by Charles Meyers' address, "Washington's Ideals in Present Day America", and a "Washington Day Ode" by Joseph O'Brien, C.S.C. Rev. John F. O'Hara, C.S.C., president of the University, made the speech of acceptance following the presentation of the flag by R. Parker Sullivan, president of the Senior Class. Edmund P. Joyce was in charge of the program. Ushers for the occasion were: Cyril F. Stroker, Peter J. Johnen, Lawrence F. Burnett, Roderick J. Gillis, Joseph J. Welch, and Joseph S. Moore.

LAETARE MEDAL

Dr. Jeremiah D. M. Ford, chairman of the Department of Romance languages of Harvard University and Fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, was named as the fifty-fifth recipient of the Laetare Medal, which has been awarded annually since 1883 by the University of Notre Dame to an outstanding member of the Catholic laity. Rev. John F. O'Hara, C.S.C., president of the University of Notre Dame, in announcing the award said of Dr. Ford: "For more than forty years Professor Ford has contributed in a very scholarly way to our knowledge and appreciation of Spanish and French literature. He has fostered international understanding and respect, which is a vital basis of world peace." Since entering into the field of education as an instructor in French at Harvard University in 1895, Dr. Ford has received academic awards from a number of European nations and has received decorations from Italy, France, Spain and Rumania for his work in literature and history.

1936

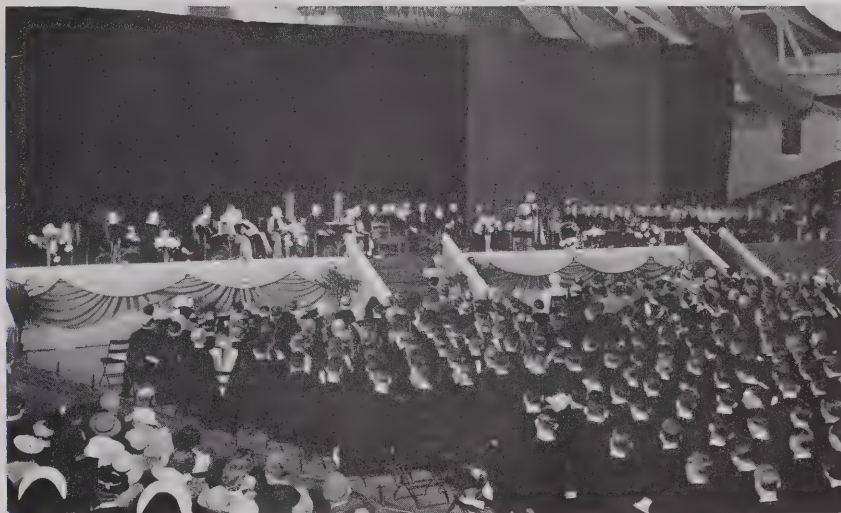

Most Rev. John F. Noll, His Excellency, Archbishop Edward Mooney, Rev. John F. O'Hara, C.S.C., Dr. Charles H. Mayo, Dr. William J. Mayo, Hon. Francis P. Garvan

Four hundred and sixty-six members of the class of 1936 were awarded degrees at the ninety-second Commencement exercises of the University of Notre Dame, held in the University Field House. A private address by the Rev. John F. O'Hara, C.S.C., in Washington Hall opened the three day program. "Friday the Thirteenth," a comedy, was presented by the University Theatre on Friday night, June fifth. Awarding of degrees took place on Saturday morning, at which time the valedictory address was given by Henry A. Staunton. Following this, the Hon. Francis P. Garvan of the Chemical Foundation of New York addressed the members of the faculty, the student body and guests at the laying of the cornerstone for the new biology building. A baseball game and an alumni golf tournament was held in the afternoon, to be followed by the annual alumni banquet that night. Commencement on Sunday began with the academic procession to the Field House where the baccalaureate mass was celebrated by the Most Rev. John F. Noll, D.D., bishop of Fort Wayne. The baccalaureate sermon was preached by His Excellency, Archbishop Edward Mooney, D.D., of Rochester, New York. The traditional flag raising ceremony followed. The University conferred the degree of doctor of laws, honoris causa, on: Dr. William J. Mayo, co-founder of the Mayo clinic, who delivered the commencement address, Dr. Charles H. Mayo, internationally known surgeon, Archbishop Mooney, and Mr. Garvan.

ORGANIZATIONS

Fraternalism among students is fostered by the large number of clubs formed on the campus. The city clubs are instrumental in bringing together those students who are attending the University from the same locality. Dances, smokers, and regular meetings serve to supplement the activities of the campus clubs which have for their purpose the uniting of students with mutual interests. Their success is indicated by the increasing number of clubs and the enthusiasm with which they are accepted.

The Student Activities Council, better known as the S.A.C., is comprised of student representatives from each of the four classes. The purpose of the organization is to represent the students in the direction of all matters which directly affect the student body. The council, with the aid of the administration, arranges for student trips, conducts class elections, supervises the various city and campus clubs, and, in general, interests itself in all undergraduate activities.

The function of the S.A.C. is an indispensable one, for without such an organization, complete harmony between the student body and the administration could never be effected. As a part of the student government of the school, it has proved itself to be invaluable.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

Notre Dame Council No. 1477 of the Knights of Columbus was organized on the campus in 1910 by a group of students, among whom was the Rev. John F. O'Hara, C.S.C., present president of the University. The Council chambers are located in Walsh Hall, occupying almost an entire floor, which includes a meeting chamber, recreation rooms, lounge rooms, and office space where most of the business of the Council is carried on. Since its organization, the Notre Dame Council has inducted into the Knights of Columbus over eight thousand members, more than six thousand of which have been transferred to other jurisdictions all over the country. Its present membership represents forty two states and two foreign countries. Aside from sponsoring intellectual activities, the Council carries out a social program which, for the most part, satisfies the needs of its members. It conducts an informal dance each year after one of the football games, and the Annual K. of C. Formal is the outstanding non-class dance of the year. This year the Council was host to the district at a St. Patrick's Day banquet which was attended by some four hundred members and guests. Four times a year, Communion breakfasts are held by the members. The K. of C. picnic late in May is the culminating feature of the year. Perhaps the most enviable possession of the Council is its Building Corporation with approximately $45,000.00 on hand for the purpose of erecting a permanent home for the Council and a memorial to the Order. This sum has been accumulated from part of the dues of members for the past seventeen years without placing any special assessment upon the members, and a definite policy in this regard is hoped for within a very short period.

The Wranglers, the outstanding forensic society on the campus, was organized eleven years ago for the purpose of discussing current social, economic, and political problems. Each week the club meets to discuss questions presented by its members, and the pro's and con's of each question are debated from the floor by the assembled members. Research and discussion form the greatest part of the Wranglers' activities, but in addition, they sponsor the Interhall Debating Contest which is held each year. Each of the residence halls is represented by a debating team coached by one of the Wranglers, and elimination debates are held until only two teams remain. The final debate, held at St. Mary's College, determines the winner, and entitles that hall to possession of the Lemmer trophy for one year. George Morris was chairman of this year's interhall program.

WRANGLERS

In the spring of each year, the outside activities of the society are centered around the Indiana Catholic Oratorical Contest for High Schools. Representatives are sent to Notre Dame by the various Catholic High Schools in the state, and the winner is chosen by a committee selected by the Wranglers. A medal is awarded to each of the contestants appearing in the finals, in respect to their finishing order, and a trophy is presented to the school represented by the winning contestant. The contests have met with a great deal of success and approval since they were begun in 1935. The chairman of this year's contest was Pierre de la Vergne. The Wranglers were led this year by President Richard Meier and Secretary Charles Meyers, with Rev. Norbert C. Hoff serving as Chaplain.

MORNING,

10:40 A.M.—Everyone does not have these early morning classes. They are a matter of individual choice.

Each student has a valet assigned to him.

Heated garages and skilled attendants keep students' cars in perfect condition.

One of the popular courses: Music Appreciation 11b; 214 Main Building 11:30 M.W.F.

NOON AND NIGHT

Luncheon in the Campus Grill, overlooking the polo field and the new outdoor swimming pool.

A final tug at the tie before an evening in South Bend.

A gay crowd at Zimmer's.

Home with the milkman. Pass keys dispense with the necessity of watchmen.

barbs . . .

"Naw, ya gotta get your Army tickets from West Point!!"

underhand

Furtively the lads scanned the length of the alley. A pal posted on the far corner waved assent and resumed his watching. "Yea, a Chevie . . . a black coach." Inside the window large glasses foaming with amber delight danced on a counter. A bald man in a dirty apron wiped suds down a drain. The boys looked quickly about and coats over heads dashed for the door. Within they haunched over a table in a far dark corner. Nervous cigarettes were lighted. Then the bald man and a dirtier twin loomed over them. Blusterly, "You boys 21?" Retreat further into the gloom, but the inevitable affirmative. The baldpates shake negation after quizzical glances at peach fuzz and bow ties. "Students gotta sign for drinks . . . law." Pencils scrape; ink flows. ORDER? Two large cokes. . . .

the school must clear a few cents

save the pocketbook

but sixty three cents for that bundle there that contains but a battered shirt

a sum indeed

someone must pay

STRATIGON

Cooled with washed air (unpaid adv.). But if you leave without the reek of hamburger clinging to your borrowed tails you are eligible to win a door prize offered by the Dumm. Good coffee if you don't mind the grounds getting in your teeth.*

MODERNE

A cozy balcony can be reserved for card parties. Not that we expect you bring some cards along. But with your date you'll probably wish that you had. Ask for their "Crushed Grape Delight". Yoohoo!

KEWPIE'S

Not as coy as it sounds. The hamburgers snap at you after five brews.

122

The place to go if you're on a liquid diet. Get Joe to whip you up a "Blood Transfusion". Your date can find her way back to the hotel.

CLUB LIDO

As modern as tomorrow's trains. Try and stay on the streamlined bar stools. The floor show can be avoided by coming in after one a.m., or by stuffing your fingers in your ears.

CLARK'S

Did you ever see an x-ray of the stomach?

if you don't know

JOE'S LUNCH

Oceola's pride and joy. Just a nice ride for you and the date. Meet all your friends but be prepared for anything. The short-order man is a riot—on Broadway any day now. Bring your own spoons.*

ELKHART LITTLE SPANISH GRILL

Too bad your date wasn't here after examinations. If you want to get that Spanish atmosphere order an onion sandwich. The bartender's blind and doesn't understand English. Better drink milk.

NILES KUGLER'S

Just this side of the tracks. Watch for N. D. pickets at the state line. Also Kugler's electric screen door that kills insects. Don't go to the Michigan Central station by mistake. And don't grab for the platters that hold the sizzling steaks. When you get used to the fast freights coming through you'll like it.

a mad tea party...

Really boys, I do prefer the Oolong. It has such a delicious aroma as it steams from the spout . . . not like the acrid Java.

Oolong. . . ?

Java. . . ?

And the taste . . . it's heavenly . . . lifts one over these barred walls . . . so easily . . .

Bars. . . ?

Walls. . . ?

On my last trip abroad someone told me that the Chinese really pack their tea by stomping on it . . . dirty feet . . . Chinese tea . . . ugh!

Feet. . . ?

I've always demanded the best . . . and this was packed especially for me . . . always is . . . won't touch anything else . . . imagine . . . dirty feet . . . packing tea . . .

Dirty feet . . .

Oh, I suppose the piping water would kill the nasty microbes . . . I always draw it at exactly 212 degrees . . . but I can't take any chances . . . microbes swimming in these pretty, blue cups . . .

Blue cups. . . ?

Yes . . . and aren't they unique . . . that delicate, egg blue . . . to fit the tea . . . oh pardon me, boys . . . sugar or lemon?

Huh . . . ummm . . . we'll take both—

And do have a crumpet . . . they are so dainty . . . I could eat them for days . . . such a relief after all that heavy stuff we get in the refectory . . . I just can't stand it . . . those lardaceous steaks and impossible salads . . .

Steaks. . . ! ! !

Salads. . . ! ! !

And they are much easier on the stomach . . . and after all one's health is what really matters . . . mother always said that light eating toned one . . . especially the skin.

Ya mean . . .

. . . don't eat?

Oh, eat . . . but light things . . . like these lettuce rolls . . . vitalizing . . . and inexpensive, too . . . only seventy-five cents a dozen . . . I found them at the best little place on North Michigan Street . . .

North Michigan. . . ?

Wimpy's. . . ?

Of course I never get more than two dozen at a time . . . they do lose their freshness so easily. . . . But I simply adore these pimento fossetts . . . that's my own term of course . . . you fellows wouldn't understand the significance . . . but try one won't you . . .

Fossetts . . . taste's like limburger ! ! !

the freshman

Well here I am at Notre Dame
(I've got it on my jacket
In six inch blue and yellow words
I hope the wear won't crack it)
And now let's see, I've got my book
For football games and stuff
(I wonder when fall practice starts
It can't start soon enough)
My classes—only eight till four
And "phy ed" is a cinch
And good for you it builds you up
My brother grew an inch
I wonder who my room mate is
He hasn't got here yet
His trunk says "Blister, Idaho"
And that's the break I get Whoa! there's the bell it's almost six
And that means time to eat
So here I go right for that hall
There's eleven guys to beat.

EDITOR'S NOTE

Ever ready to help the undernourished young artist, DUMM accepted these manuscripts—already twenty-five times refused by SCRAP, and gave the author a tea bag, a cup and two lumps of sugar. We kept the lemon.

a visitor

The campus is just lovely
That place over there
The log chapel Father Sorin Landed where
Is he a football player
The fellow with the scar
Oh, he got it playing pingpong
My how brutal these sports are!
Is that place up there the armory
It's Sorin Hall, I see
Some students live inside it
Well far be it from me
To make a choice
Of places they should stay
But this hall called Alumnus
Wouldn't creak like that and sway
This gale is nothing but a breeze
If you're used to it, perhaps
What is that awful rumbling sound
My goodness! all those chaps
Are going to sit down at once
Where do you get the food
How can you cook enough of it
To fed that roaring brood
Of course I'd like to see the Dome
And then I have to go
This dear, dear, dear old school of yours
You all must love it so!

All graduating students must have appendectomy scars.

monster

As he started to move slowly down the long passageway his eyes fell on the shining back of the machine. He stopped fascinated. Then overpowered by the sleek Frankenstein he moved slowly toward it. Fear and reverence played across his face. Sweat broke out on his pale forehead. He moved his jaws, slowly . . . No words came. From the innermost depths of the monster a sinister whirring suddenly began. Soon the whirr rose to a metallic whine. He staggered back grasping wildly for his back pocket. Quickly he snaked out a black object and rushed toward the THING. The whine bit off as he approached. A voice shot forth at him. "Cawfee, toast and orange juice . . . forty-five cents." With trembling fingers he pulled a dollar bill from his wallet . . .
